DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 7, 13, 16, 17, 30, 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In these claims, Applicant claims a particular element to have a dimension that is relative to a patient's body part. The dimensions are indefinite because a patient's body part varies depending on which patient is used.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 7, 9-11, 14-21, 23, 30, 32, 33, 34, 39, 41, 42, 45-48, 50, 58-61 and 64 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Giglio, 5,085,650.

As to claims 1, 33, 61 and 64, Giglio discloses a base member (26) that is capable of being non-meltable, and is sized to prevent insertion of said base member into said urethra; a reinforcement (16 and 22) that is capable of being non-meltable and has a length having a first end and a second end, said first end attached to said base member and projecting from said base member; and a meltable portion (22) formed around a portion of said length of said reinforcement, said meltable portion having a diameter which tapers from said second end toward said first end, see Figure 3, said meltable portion sized for insertion into said urethra, see column 3, lines 19-22.

As to claims 2, 34, the base member (26) is shaped for handling.

As to claims 7, 39, the base member (26) is sized to fit within the labia minora.

As to claims 9, 10, 41, the reinforcement first end (16) is considered embedded within the base member, and projects perpendicular from said base member.

As to claims 11, 42, the reinforcement (16) comprises a rod.

As to claim 14, the reinforcement is sized such that upon insertion into the urethra, the second end of the reinforcement is entirely within the meltable portion. (The reinforcement is considered to be a portion of (16 and 22) that does not have medicament that melts, see column 3, lines 12-13.)

103 As to claim 15, the second end of the reinforcement extends outside the meltable portion. (The reinforcement is considered to be a portion of (16 and 22) that does not have medicament that melts, see column 3, lines 12-13.)

As to claims 16, 17, 59, 60, the reinforcement is considered to have the claimed dimensions.

As to claims 18-21, 45-48, a restraint as claimed is disclosed at (22).

As to claims 23, 50, the meltable portion comprises the therapeutic agents as claimed, see column 3, lines 14-18.

As to claim 30, the meltable portion is sized to fit entirely within the urethra, see column 2, lines 66-67.

As to claim 32, 58, the meltable portion is capable of melting within about 2 minutes to about 60 minutes, see column 3, lines 12-18.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 24, 25, 31, 51, 52, 57, 62 and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giglio, 5,085,650.

Giglio discloses the invention substantially as claimed.

As to claims 24, 25, 31, 51, 52 and 57, it would have been obvious to form the meltable portion having the dimensions as claimed, as would be necessary to fit inside a urethra, as taught by Giglio, see column 2, lines 66-67.

As to claims 62 and 63, it would have been obvious to wait for about 1 minute to about 10 hours to deliver the therapeutic agent, as may be necessary to deliver the agent.

Claims 8, 13, 22, 40, 44 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giglio, 5,085,650, in view of Place et al. 5,919,474.

Giglio discloses the invention substantially as claimed, except for the base member being formed from the materials as claimed, and the meltable portion and reinforcement comprising the materials as claimed.

Place et al. discloses a urethral suppository comprised of plastic, see column 9, line 31. It would have been obvious to form the Giglio suppository from plastic as taught by Place et al.

Place et al. also discloses that the agent may be a biodegradable polymer, see column 8, lines 50-52. It would have been obvious to provide a biodegradable polymer as the agent in the Giglio suppository device as taught by Place et al..

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-6, 12, 26-29, 35-38, 43, 53-56 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's argument with respect to the restriction requirement is moot since Examiner examined claims 61-64 also.
